It's been four years since Volume III of The NSX-Files was released back in December 1999. The Pulp Racing team has gathered up some pretty cool video clips to document their wireless addition to the "Go-Fast Crack Pipe". Drive Virtually with them as they go wheel-to-wheel against other racers who have gone off the deep end as they battle for supremacy at various race tracks. See them duke it out with the mousetail at the Virginia City Hill Climb with no guard rails, rip through the narrow streets of Los Angeles and Tjones with concrete barriers on each side, chase an impenetrable Ferrari F30 GT1 at California Speedway, and go wheel-to-wheel at 81 mph on 120cc shifter karts.

The NSX-Files website (www.nsxfiles.com) is responsible for many people throwing away all national shame and devoting their free time to work, fame, glory, and inner peace at the open track. This DVD takes some of the website stories and puts YOU in the driver's seat. Once you have successfully guided a tire just a half of steel around the track within inches of other cars battling for the same spot, feel the car shifting into a turn at 130 mph, experienced the g forces throwing every you which way against your five point harness, the heart-stopping action will change your life. (It's just not more if it changes it for the better...not if it just turns you into another track where the life rest of us who are on "The Go-Fast Crack Pipe." But once you get on The Pipe, your life will never be the same, as dreams of Benz, Schumacher, and Colin, fill your head.
